BRAZIL STORM LEAVES AT LEAST 27 DEAD

BRAZIL : An extratropical cyclone in southern Brazil caused floods in several cities, killing at least in several cines, killing at least 27 people and leaving more than 1,600 homeless, authorities sold Wednesday. More than 6 forms since Monday, indight, and Rio Grande do Sul Gox. Eduardo Leite said the death tall was the state's highest due to a dimate event. Rescue efforts expanded farther west on almare event. Nessue errors expanded tramer west on Wednesday with helicopters beaded to the Rio Pardo Valley. Search and rescue teams had been focusing around the Taquari Valley, about 150 kilometers northwest of the state capital Porto Alegre, where most of the victims and damage were recorded. More heavy rains were expected to hit the state's centre-south contains the state's centre-south. rains were expected to hit the state's centre-south region, but possibly sparing worst-hit areas. Authorities maintained three flooding alerts on Wednesday — for the Jacui, Cai and Taquari rivers. TV footage showed families on the top of their houses pleading for help as rivers overflowed their banks. Some areas were entirely at all fatter wide avenues turned into fast-moving rivers. Leite said 15 of the deaths occurred in one house in Mucum, a city of about 50,000 residents. Once the storm had passed, TV footage showed a goar hanging from an electrical line — an indication of how high the water had risen. Many of the victims died from electrical shock, or were trapped in vehicles, online news site G1 reported. The city half at Mucum recommended that residents seek out supplies to meet their needs for the next 72 hours. Rio Grande do Sul was hill by another extratropical cyclane in June, which was hit by another extratropical cyclone in June, which killed 16 people and caused destruction in 40 cities, many of those around Porto Alegre.
